UNPLUGS

The Weekends of Sustainability

...The accepted concept of life, as dictated to us, is not the only one. Neither is it big city life and doing jobs we often would not have willingly chosen to do, they force us to live without making any distinction between the business world and the private, we remain in a constant state of stress and dissatisfaction, earning money and seeking security. We consume fossil fuels and produce waste without knowing the effect we have on our environment. We waste time from morning to night and during our lives on non essential things in order to live it in the most original and authentic way possible. We move and live in boxes, from home to the car to the office to the car and then home polluting the environment at every meter we do. We eat food products from food lobbies without knowing what they contain and if we do well...

The Weekend "UNPLUGS" it is for those who want to spend a travel experience in the sign of sustainability, concentrated in a small space of time. Balance their load on the environment, living and traveling through the breathtaking scenery in an environment with low emissions, eat healthy food as it once, re-establish an equilibrium vital that gives the energy to face life's everyday.
